SECOND ANNUAL CATHOLIC PRESS EXHIBIT :

Last year a student viewing the Sanguinist Press Exhibit evidenced amazement at the range and quality of the Catholic Press . He said he never realized before the vast amount of Catholic literature available to the public . This was the experience of any number of the students who visited the display.

To enlighten Catholics, and those outside of the Church as well, on the nature and extent of the Catholic Press; to foster their interest and to elicit their support --- are the objective of Catholic Press Month.

A strong Catholic Press solidifies Catholic opinion and action. A powerful Catholic Press makes for an articulate Catholic laity. Without the vehicle of the Catholic Press, America's millions of Catholics would soon become a voiceless multitude . We cannot permit this to happen in our own United States.

NOT GAUDY PRINTS BUT PICTURES WITH A MEANING AND PURPOSE :

Through the kindness of Father Baechle we are able to offer as a special feature of this year's exhibit, a collection of copies of the well-known painting of the celebrated Catholic artist, C. Bosseron Chambers. Each painting is a story in itself revealing the deep faith of the painter and artist. Through the medium of art Chambers would make the layman conscious of the rich heritage of Faith.

After making an appreciative study of these copies of Chambers pictures, the natural reaction should be to tear down the ugly, gaudy prints that now deface the walls of many a student's room. Some of these cheap prints, putting it mildly, barely fall short of being an insult to Religion and morality. If a man is to be known by the environment he sets up for himself, then we must feel the deepest pity for some of the college boys.

The thoughtful question cannot escape : In how many student rooms would we be able to discover a crucifix, an image of Christ, a picture of the Blessed Mother ? Would they, perhaps, remind you too much that you are travelling the wrong road ? ?

DO YOU BELONG TOO ??????????

Yes, bud, do you belong to that fast growing army of modern " Peripatetics " ? We call them mental wanderers devoted to the ~~Vagabond~~ occupation of dreaming. Unlike the original followers of Aristotle who sought after truth and knowledge, the modern " Peripatetic " seeks escape from the realities of life in creating a world of dreams. In fact the full existence of these " Peripatetics " is solidly grounded in an " Escape- Psychosis".

Are you afraid to face life ? Are you afraid to take stock of yourself ? Yes, you might discover that your life is a sham. You might find out that you condemn the young man who studies, who plays square with God ; not because you do approve, but because his strength reminds you of your own weakness and lack of character.

PRAYERS REQUESTED :

For the repose of the soul of professor Serviss, Purdue U.
